- Execute manual testing across web applications, APIs, and integrated systems.
- Create, document, and implement test plans, test cases, and scenarios.
- Identify, document, and monitor software defects using Jira or similar platforms, ensuring proper resolution.
- Navigate SQL databases and write simple SQL queries to validate test outcomes.
- Work closely with software developers, product manager, and stakeholders to fully understand requirements and conduct thorough testing.
- Perform regression testing during software release cycles as part of our CI/CD practices.
- Support continuous improvements in QA processes and practices.
- Generate detailed and informative testing reports for stakeholders and management.

Qualifications:

- Demonstrated experience conducting manual testing for web-based applications.
- Familiarity with API testing tools like Postman or equivalent.
- Basic proficiency in SQL for querying databases.
- Fundamental knowledge of CI/CD processes.

- Experience utilizing Jira or similar issue-tracking tools.
- Strong analytical thinking and effective problem-solving capabilities.
- High attention to detail with excellent documentation and reporting skills.
- Ability to effectively manage tasks independently and collaboratively within a team setting.

Preferred Skills:

- Knowledge or experience with automated testing tools such as Selenium, Cypress, or similar.
- Experience in SaaS or the aviation industry will be advantageous.

Perks & Benefits:

- Flexible work schedule ideal for part-time roles.
- Hybrid work model, offering both remote and office-based options.
- Access to innovative technologies and modern methodologies.
- Competitive salary package.

This is opportunity is for individual contractors, the cooperation will be under a service provider agreement. The remuneration is a subject of an individual negotiation with candidates. The price rate is 18 EUR/hour, but it might be adjusted based on candidate's skills.
