- Develop and maintain interfaces between aviation systems, like AMOS, and third-party systems (ERP, flight ops, supply chain, data lake, etc.).
- Monitor aviation system availability and performance.
- Ensure backup, restore, and failover procedures are well-established and tested.
- Troubleshoot aviation system-related infrastructure issues, including virtual environments and networks.
- Manage system performance, Webdrive availability, and disk space optimizations.
- Patch, upgrade, and optimize databases & operating systems.
- Ensure system security, reliability, and compliance across airline IT environments.
- Assist in deployment, scheduled downtime, synchronized configurations / system settings, and infrastructure scaling for aviation IT systems.
- Travel internationally for subsidiary company implementation, training, or support.

Required Skills & Experience:

- 3+ years of experience in system administration, preferably within aviation IT environments.
- Experience in data migration tools & techniques (ETL, SQL, data transformation).
- Strong knowledge of system integration & interfacing using APIs, web services, XML, JSON.
- Hands-on experience in OS (Linux, others), DBMS (PostgreSQL, others), and cloud environments (Azure, others).
- Hands-on experience in analytic platforms like PowerBI, knowledge of Microsoft Fabric is a plus.
- Aviation industry experience is a plus, but not mandatory.

Our benefits:

- Be part of a thriving, international, and fast-evolving business aviation community.
- Advance your career in a rewarding and challenging role within the aviation service sector.
- Enjoy a flexible work environment alongside diverse, engaged, and globally connected teams.
- Receive competitive compensation and be recognized for your contributions with comprehensive employee benefits.
- Access a health insurance package in line with company policy.
- Enjoy discounts and special offers from various partners.
